

A Monetary System with Integrity!

There are two million species upon our planet, apart from humanity, who run complex economies, based upon life force, a power given freely from the cosmos. These species do not require the four financial demons, those of debt, interest, taxation, and inflation. These species do not trade their life force for the debt confetti which we call banknotes, these species do not exist upon the slave plantations which we call 'life'. It is obvious then that we too could use a monetary system based upon life force, a monetary system which functions in the same way as a hydro lake creates electricity, a monetary system where a nation without money is a concept as ridiculous as a sun without light!

In this monetary model, money can be defined as 'human life force, traded within a marketplace.' The measure for money, similar to the electrical measure of the Watt, becomes, 'the distance that a typical human being, walking at the normal speed of 5km/hr, will cover within one hour, that is 5000 metres.'

This monetary unit is a measure of human physiology, human psyche, time, distance and the speed of light, as a metre is a measure of the speed of light within a vacuum. This is a monetary measure which has echoed throughout the historical human journey, it is a measure which is intrinsically familiar to the human psyche!

Using this monetary measure, we can now create a financial 'hydro lake' to power our nation, free from the four financial demons. In the Australian example, twenty-five million people, times an average of $20 an hour, times 40 hours per week, times fifty weeks per year, creates a hydro lake of one trillion dollars, a lake which could power the Australian nation, free from debt, interest, taxation, and inflation!

Here then are some of the features of this asset-based financial system!

This monetary system fulfils Aristotle's requirements for money, to be portable, durable, divisible, easily recognisable, and intrinsically valuable.

This monetary system fulfils the economists' dream for a 100% reserve currency, operating with the minimal financial costs, those of the four financial demons!

This system monetises all the aspects of the economy which are not currently defined as GDP.

This system monetises the commons, the great beating heart of our nation.

This system creates a power source which can supply everybody in the nation with a universal basic income.

This monetary system frees us from compound interest, the financial power which eats the world and destroys our enjoyment of life!

This monetary system no longer burdens the future generations with debt peonage, one of the greatest crimes against the human heart.

This monetary system ends the 'one thousand' crimes which arise with usury and financial racketeering.

This monetary system destroys the psychopathic powers which create crime and war.

This system dis-empowers the bankers' premise that our economy must be based upon rare, pre-existing bank capital, that our economy must be based upon hunger and austerity!

This monetary system tears up the founding stones of the international debt markets, the modern versions of the slave markets from history.

This monetary system erases the vampiric extraction of the peoples' life-force, with hidden tax havens and millions of forensic accountants, who strip the income from the people and send these treasures to the debt merchants!

This monetary system ends the debt bondage by which the nation's Treasury is forced to sell the treasures of our nation to the international debt markets.

This monetary system destroys the financial swindle where customer assets are converted into private debts, by using the financial mirror of double-entry bookkeeping.

At last, free from the fires of compound interest, we will now have the time to study the historical debt monster, in intricate detail.

We can create a Debt Commission to examine each loan, to determine if the loan is legally valid, to ensure the loan was based upon pre-existing bank capital, and we need to know the owners of our debts and the owners of the global debt matrix!

We can impose laws against usury, such as the laws used in ancient Rome, India, and China, where the interest accrued upon loans could not exceed the original loan capital.

We can re-engineer our loans so that they are recorded as interest-free assets, owned by the bank's customers.

We can implement Jubilees to void odious debts, we can impose penalties for cartel crimes, we can void bad loans created through fraud, pyramid schemes, duress, and racketeering.

We now have a monetary system based upon the waters of a natural lake, instead of a monetary system based upon crime and deception, a monetary system little changed since the middle ages, a time of slavery, feudalism, debt peonage, war and empire.

We have a monetary system which empowers the lives of the people so that we can live our natural lives, and pursue our natural talents.

We have a monetary system which connects us to the other two million species upon our planet, in a shared communion, a shared empathy.

We have become as financially literate as the bees and the ants, and the other two million species who have never encountered the shadows of a debt banker, and the darkness of the lies and deceptions which surround the crimes of usury!
